CONTEST OVER ESTATES.

Efforts to Have Administrators Appointed For Estates of Men Killed in Wyoming.

Attorney W. L. Magnus filed in the district court yesterday demurrers to the petitions of the Union Pacific Railroad company to set aside the order appointing administrators in the matter of the estates of J. P. Lowham, William Murray and Benjamin Franklin Eckles, deceased, on the ground that the same do not state facts sufficient to authorize the court to grant relief prayed for and that the Union Pacific Railroad company is not a proper party to the proceedings and has no legal capacity to ask for relief of any kind. The above actions involve about $50,000 damages and are the result of the Asuna wreck about one year ago. The defendants in their motion to set aside the order appointing an administrator set forth the fact that the said Lowham, Murray and Eckles were residents of Wyoming, contending that the actions should be brought within that state, as they did not live or have any estates in the state of Utah. They also claim that administrators had been previously appointed in Wyoming, where their estates were. The decision in these matters is awaited with much interest, as it will be far-reaching in effect. The hearing is set for Oct. 18.

PULL FOR EACH OTHER.

Patton Circulates Petition For Glasman and Glasman Recommends More Salary For Patton.

Mayor Glasman sprang his expected surprise in the local political situation yesterday. It came in the form of a petition circulated among the business men by his appointee, Juvenile Court Judge A. B. Patton. The petition calls upon the mayor to set aside his modesty and accept a third term as mayor. It is believed that this action is but a part of the original plan as outlined in yesterday's Herald. The petition of Glasman upon the people of Ogden for a third term.

As an illustration of the game that is being played by the mayor, the fact is being pointed out that while Judge Patton was circulating the petition referred to, Mayor Glasman called a meeting of the juvenile court commission, to which he presented a letter from the judge requesting an increase of salary. A recommendation was drafted by the commission and addressed to the city council asking that the salary of the juvenile court judge be increased.

The petition circulated yesterday is reported to be headed by Fred J. Kiesel and was only exhibited to a chosen few.

School Board Meets.

The finance committee at the board of education meeting last evening reported an overdraft of $2.48 and the salary committee reported two new cases of children, neither of which were of school children. The teachers' committee recommended the following appointments: J. A. Wilson, instructor in history at Utah school; Miss Blanche Fulton and Miss Mary Roberts, grade teachers; and Miss Eva Brown, assistant teacher. Architect J. A. Smith reported that there was due Contractor P. A. Isaksson a balance of $200 for remodeling the Central school. Also that there was due Helverson Brothers the sum of $144 for installing a new boiler and ventilators in the same building. Both estimates were allowed. J. P. Abels requested permission to use a room at the Central school for the purpose of conducting an evening class to teach English to a small number of immigrants. The request was denied.

Taft Party Passes Through.

Secretary of War W. H. Taft and his party arrived from the west at 11 o'clock last evening. Mrs. Mabel C. Nagle, formerly Miss Mary of Ogden, who was returning from China, accompanied the Taft party as far as Ogden, where she was met by her mother and a number of friends who greeted the party. The special train left Ogden at 11:30 o'clock over the Utah Pacific.

May Have to Shut Down.

It was reported here yesterday that an account of the rains that have been falling in this territory during the past two days, it would probably be necessary to temporarily close the local sugar factory, as no beets are coming in and the factory supply is about exhausted. The Logan factory is facing a similar prospect and will be forced to shut down until more beets can be dug and delivered to the works.

Ogden Briefs.

In the district court yesterday the whole of the session was taken up with the damage case of Anna Nelson vs. David M. Smith.

E. G. Daly was arraigned before Judge Howell in the district court yesterday on a charge of perjury. Daly will plead to the charge Tuesday, Oct. 2.

For taking a gun from behind the counter of the saloon of Harry Gavros, on lower Twenty-fifth street yesterday, Harry Gavros was placed under arrest on a charge of petit larceny.

George Johnson and Samuel Gomez, the two men who failed to pay for a meal that they had eaten in the Tokio restaurant Thursday evening, were yesterday fined $10 each by Judge Murphy in the municipal court.

A young man named Ernest Tanner reported to the police yesterday the loss of a $20 check. The check was made out on the First National bank of Portland, where Tanner called to call from. Payment on the check has been stopped by telegram.

James S. Carver & Sons Grocery company filed articles of incorporation yesterday, with a capital stock of $25,000. The shareholders and directors of the concern are: James S. Carver, Inc. Carver, James S. Carver, James S. Carver, and J. Carver. The company is incorporated for a period of 100 years.

Arrangements have been completed whereby the Ogden Tabernacle choir will give their concert at the Grand opera house in Ogden Wednesday evening next. The management of the house has tendered the choir the free use of the same for the concert, after switching a play that was booked for that night to Park City.

Ira McMillen, who hails from Lexington, Neb., was arrested, and it is stated that a charge of forgery will be made out against the young man. It is claimed that McMillen was successful in passing several checks for small amounts, which were later declared to be forgeries. The checks were made out to H. H. Hoover and signed by S. H. Hobson.

Fred M. Tout is the petitioner for letters of administration in the matter of the estate of Mary Lutz, who recently died intestate. The estate is valued at $25. The petition was filed yesterday. Another petition for letters of administration was filed by John A. Hutchins yesterday for the estate of Mr. Mary L. Hutchins, mother of the petitioner. The probable value of the estate is $1,200.

BALTIMORE GIRL MAY SOLVE THE DRESS SUIT CASE MURDER MYSTERY

Boston, Sept. 29.—Miss Nathan, daughter of Mrs. Louis Nathan of Baltimore, came here today and requested the police to show her the torso of the woman which was found in a dress suit case near the Winthrop yacht club on Thursday of last week. She will see the body tomorrow.

The coming of Miss Nathan has a possible bearing on the Winthrop mystery, although the police do not attach great importance to it. Miss Nathan is a sister of Mrs. Maurice Schapiro, who has been missing for nearly three weeks. Mrs. Schapiro is the wife of a former West End doctor, who has also been missing for some time.

In the search for clues that might lead to a solution of the case, the attention of the police was called to the missing doctor and his wife, and an investigation was instituted and apparently continued to the satisfaction of the officers. It was given out that the authorities knew the whereabouts of Mrs. Schapiro, and it was understood that such information had been conveyed to Mrs. Nathan.

BOYCOTT THE BRITISH

Fifty Thousand Bengalis Assemble at Kalighat to Resist the Division of their Province.

Calcutta, Sept. 29.—Fifty thousand Bengalis assembled at the Temple of Kalighat, have sworn by the Goddess Kali to boycott British goods as a protest against the partition of the province of Bengal. The administrative work of the province, according to the views of the home and Indian governments, had grown to such an unwieldy size that the British government decided to divide the province into two lieutenant governorships. The Bengalis are intensely resentful at what they characterize as an attempt to split the population and impair the Bengali nationality. At scores of meetings throughout Bengal the people have pledged themselves to support the boycott, which has now received the sanction of the priests.

The scene at the Temple of Kalighat, the greatest in Bengal, was striking when the immense assemblage took the oath. "In the name of the goddess Kali I do not use foreign goods, buy articles in foreign shops when available in native shops or employ foreigners on any work that can be done by our countrymen." The high priest then placed a mystic vermilion symbol on the forehead of each of those who took the oath. Foreign firms are all feeling seriously the effect of the boycott.

STABBED AT A DANCE.

William Hendry Wounded in Affray in Center Ward Amusement Hall.

William Hendry, who lives on Campbell street, was stabbed twice on the pavilion floor last night at a dance held in the Center ward amusement hall. His assailant, a man whose name has been unable to locate him or find out who he is. Hendry's wounds were inflicted with a pocket knife, and are not dangerous. According to Hendry's story, he was dancing and happened to bump into another couple on the floor. He excused himself but the young man told him to "get out." Hendry replied that he did not have to. At this the fellow left his partner in the middle of the floor and assaulted Hendry with a knife. He stabbed Hendry twice and then darted out the door and disappeared. Hendry faintly before he could get to his seat, and was carried to his home. A physician was called to dress his wounds and after he recovered he told the police how he had been stabbed. The fellow who did the stabbing was a stranger in the ward. He asked some of the boys at the dance to find him a partner and was introduced by the name of Jones to several young women at the party.

CANCER KILLING HIM.

Chances Are Against the Recovery of Dr. Harper.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—It has been decided by the physicians in attendance upon President Harper of the University of Chicago that nothing will save his life but a surgical operation of heroic character. It is admitted that there is practically no chance of saving his life unless the cancer which is killing him can be checked by the removal of a portion of the large intestine. It is proposed by the surgeons to make an examination in a few days to decide upon the advisability of the operation. Dr. Harper, however, admitted that the chances are greatly against the permanent relief of the patient if the operation is performed.

SERVICES IN SYNAGOGUE.

Celebration of Rosh Hashanah With Impressive Address by Rabbi Freund.

Elaborate services were held at the Jewish synagogue last evening in celebration of Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, and despite the inclement weather there was a large congregation present. Rabbi C. W. Freund spoke impressively of the festival, and the music of the synagogue choir was splendidly rendered.

At 10 a. m. today special services will be held and tonight the festival of Rosh Hashanah ends and the Jewish year 5666 will have been formally ushered in. Rabbi Freund spoke about one hour.

"This is our holy Sabbath—the day sanctified by Israel's life and death, by the blood of heroes and martyrs. It is also our great New Year. Should not the day's two-fold importance awaken within us a thrill at the significance of all that is contained in the great day at which we are standing? Should it not give us pause to reflect on what each one of us is contributing as his share to the betterment of life?"

"We stand as 'twice at the crossroads—the roads of time—a year passing forth into the spacious lap of to-morrow and the young newly-born year—hopeful with promise yet veiled in darkness to human eyes. We look backward over the road traversed and what do we behold? Is yonder dark spectral mass, the reminder of obligations never met, of duties still undone? Is the darkness on the horizon made still darker by a heavy conscience? In a word, are we perfectly satisfied with our fellow travelers?"

"The value of time is best understood at such a moment as the present, when contemplation concentrates our thoughts on the aims and objects of life. And that we and the whole community of Israel should at this or a corresponding moment find ourselves engrossed with this or similar train of thoughts may not be an easy matter to explain. The psychological reason cannot be satisfactorily adduced and we must accordingly—for a time at least—rest satisfied to ascribe such spasmodic though regular outbursts of religious feeling to what has been designated the Jewish consciousness. In trying to define what this religious consciousness is, we arrive at a dilemma whose solution would involve us deeply in intricate windings as to religious and racial linkings. But of this one fact we are assured from the time devoted to the day of memorial—and this fact we cannot emphasize any too strongly—there is an awakening consciousness of our religious obligation with inevitable resultant duties."

"We deplore keenly the gross materialism of the age in which we live. By this we do not mean the materialism which posits that everything originates from a material source and accordingly denies the great creative cause, reverently called by our fathers, the Jewish God. By our term materialism—the pot term of those who desire to depict life's greatest crying evil—we would denote that air of self-satisfaction which seemingly carries off and fears nothing—at least nothing short of life's termination."
